Eastbourne is not a large town and has many flat areas. And a bike will suit you fine.

Quite often these routes have much less traffic and if cyclists start to use them on a regular basis then they could become a natural corridor for bikes.

The idea behind this map was to make it easier for people to cycle around the town by identifying routes that are more pleasant to cycle along. Quite often these routes have much less traffic and if cyclists start to use them on a regular basis then they could become a natural corridor for bikes.

The information provided on this map is for guidance only. The users of this map accept all liabilities and should make sure they are familiar with riding a bicycle and the highway code.